About The Speakers:

Scot Anderson— After interviewing numerous multi-millionaires, reading more than twenty books on becoming a millionaire and listening to nearly 400 hours of CDs on obtaining wealth, Scot came to a conclusion: Billionaires think differently than the rest of us. In just one year, Scot changed his thinking, and this took him from having a net worth of maybe $250,000 on a good day, to a net worth of over $3,000,000. That's a net worth more than twelve times where he started, with another $150,000,000 worth of projects going. If he continues on that pace he should be a billionaire in ten years. His journey has shown him that if you will begin to think like a billionaire your life will have no choice but to produce it.

John Hrimnak—John Hrimnak's life is the epitome of the classic American rags-to-riches story. Born into poverty in a poor area of El Paso, Texas, growing up without a father, he refused to let his circumstance and his environment dictate his future. As a child he learned the value of hard work. As an adult he learned the value of smart and focused work. He has created his Real Money Real Time Wealth Creation system to illustrate how simple building wealth can be. With his wife Shannon, John started his first business and used the increased cash flow to begin an investment account that has made him a millionaire in less than three years. He has started eight additional businesses using his team-operating concept. John is also a successful investor in a variety of investments including real estate. He now shares his methods for everyone who desires to follow the same path to financial stability and abundance. He teaches people to live all their financial dreams by providing all the practical tools to begin creating wealth. John is committed to continuing to build wealth to make a difference in the world around the world around them. He encourages readers and seminar attendees to take the Breaking the Wealth Code Challenge. He believes the additional income will place people on the path to wealth creation and directly affect the world we live in.
